

What colour am I?

What is this game for?

Children putting words together for the first time need to be able to join up ADJECTIVES with an NOUN (object).

This game is designed to help children to do just that.

In order to describe the picture accurately they need to use the ADJECTIVE and the OBJECT – e.g. just saying "SHOE" will not do because there is a "green shoes" AND a "blue shoe".

What to do

Cut up this sheet to make 2 lotto boards and a set of individual pictures

To help with UNDERSTANDING at 2 key word level (2 main words in a sentence) the teacher is the caller, takes a card and describes it
(ADJ NOUN) e.g. "BLUE CAR"

To help with USING sentences at 2 key word level
- make the CHILD the caller
"YELLOW CHAIR PLEASE", "GREEN HAT PLEASE"

Other ideas

1. Child has the board and you have the little cards. The child must ask you for the card he needs to collect a set. You will be asking "what would you like next?" and he will answer "RED TEDDY" or "GREEN SHOE" etc. Purposely make a mistake and give him the wrong card every now and again to encourage him to make his requests clear!

2. Move on to 3 word level language

"MY YELLOW CHAIR", "YOUR BLUE SHOE"
(POSSESSIVE + ADJ+ NOUN)
